The Lost Occasion.

Some die too late and some too soon, At early meening, heat of upon, Or the chill evening twilight. Thou Whom the rich heavens did so endow With all the massive strength that fills With surest gifts of heart and head New England's stateliest time of man. In part and speech Olympian : When no one met, at first, but took A second awed and wondering look (As turned, perchance, the eyes of Greece On Phidias' unveiled masterplece); se words, in simplest homespan clad, The Saxon strength of Codmon's had, With power reserved at need to reach The Roman forum's loftlest speech, In passion, cool in argument Or, punderous, falling on thy fors As fell the Nerse god a hammer blows, Crushing as if with Talus' fall Through Error's logic-woven mail And falling only when they tried The adament of the righteons side Thou, fulled in aim and hope, bereaved Of aid friends, by the new deceived, Too soon for us, too soon for thee. Beside thy lonely Northern was, Where long and low the marsh-lands apread, Laid wearily down thy august head. Thou shouldst have lived to feel below Thy feet Disunion's fierce upthrow,

The late-spring mine that underlaid Thy sad concessions valuly made, Then shouldst have seen from Samter's wall The star-flay of the Union fall, And armed Rebellion pressing on The broken lines of Washington. o stronger voice then thine had then Called out the atmost might of men, To make the Union charter free And strengthen law by liberty. low had that steen arbitrament

To thy gray age wouth's vigor lent, Shanding ambittion's paltry prize Before thy distilusioned eves : Breaking the spell about thee wound Like the green wither that Samson bound; Redeeming, in one effort grand, Threelf and thy imperiled land ! Ah, cruel fate, that closed to thee, to alsoper by the Northern sea. The gates of opportunity ?

God fills the gape of human need, Each crisis brings its sort and deed. When men and strong we did not lack; Ber still, with memory turning back, In the dark hours we thought of thee, And thy lone grave healife the sea. Above that grave the east winds blow And from the mursh-lands drifting slow The wave-wash of a longly shore, As Nature fain would typlfy The loss of that which should have been, But, where thy native mountains bure Their forehouds to diviner air, Fit emblem of enduring fame

One lefts summit keeps thy name. The rearing of that pyramid, Fire, flood, and frost thy mosolith, With hands of light their benison The stars of midulight pages to set Their Jewels in its coronet, Seems climbing from the shadowy pass Thy mobier self, thy life at best!

An Anomaly-A stayed young lady is often A dead hen is better than a live one; she will lay wherever you put her The sentiments of acrobate are not only revolu-tionally but revaulting.

None but cowards habitually color their beards. The bra we dye but once. The boarding mistress accounted the extra piece of pie as fare and above board.

A lady recently lectured in Detroit on "Burns," but failed to tell what would cure 'em. The usefulness of grasshoppers has at last beer found. The brewers are after their hops. "Pay as you go" is a rule, the application which is most general on borse railroads. Men will plead guilty to roughness, and even aired, but the most difficult thing for them to admit is a blunder. A man who was traveled says that it didn't take him long, to find out that the brakemen own all the realroads and the clerks all the hotels. At a recent railroad festival the following strik-ing sentiment was given: "Our mothers—the only faithful tenders who never misplaced a

A young lady asked a book-store cierk the other day, if he had "Festua." "No," replied the cierk, "but I'm afraid a boil is coming on the back of my nack."

A German street fruit-dealer rebuked a vour cierk who took a single peanut from his stand the other day by saying: "Young fellow, we don'd sell dose by de piece any more!"

"Will you have a small piece of the light meat or a small piece of the dark?" asked Bob's uncle, as he careed the turkey at dinner. "I will take a large piece of both, "answered Bob. Mother: "Now, Gerty, he a good girl, and give kent Julia a kiss, and say good-night." Gerty: "No, no! if I kiss her she'll box my ears, like she

One of our sertions, in making his report of bur-als is explicit to a most commendable degree. For instance, such entries as this occurred. "Died, John Smith; male; aged three days; unmarried. "Augustus dear," said she, tenderly pushing him from her, as the moonlight flooded the bey-window where they were standing. "I think you had better try some other hair-dye—your mous-tache tastes like turpentine."

"To My Postor" is what a New York lady santed engraved on a costly china cup; but it same from the hands of the decorator " Tony Pas-"." There was a pause on his part, but 'twas only momentary, when he re-plied in a tone of deep remonstrance, "Can a duck swim?" "And can'st thou always love thus, Alfred," she

"Mrs. Sage, I should like to know whose ferry boats these are that I tumbled over in the hall?" "Ferry boats, indeed, sir! Those are my shoes! Very points of you to call 'en ferry boats!" "Didn't say ferry boats, Mrs.; you misunderstood me-fairs boots, I said, my dear friend."

When is a lady's dress like an unfortunate bull-fighter? When it is gored. And when is it like a partisan? When is it biased. And when is it like a a toper? When it is full. And when is it like the suits of a shipa? When is is trimmed. We haven't time to follow this lead any father. Miritgage.

An Irishman was brought up before a justice of the peace on a charge of vagrancy, and was ques-tioned: "What trade are you?" "Sure, now! your Honor. I'm a sailor!" "You're a senfaring man! ED, HOFFSCHLARGER & CO VANITY FAIR I

It is with pleasure we announce that our Vanity Fair Tobacco and Charrettee, in their various styles, have been adopted by the Franch Government. Below we quote from the Rochester Democrat and Fire and Marine Insurance Company

Chronicle:

"It is a matter of pride to Rochester, as well as to the firm directly interested, that yesterday a Cable dispatch was received stating that the French Government had adopted the Tobacco and Charettes manufactured by Wim. S. Kimball & Co., of this city. We should explain, perhaps, that all tobacco sold in France up to this time has been manufactured by the Government. Of late the demand for other makes has arisen, and the Government, to meet it, allowed English and American manufacturers to enter goods for competitive test with a view to the adoption of the best. The fact that Win. S. Kimball & Co. have come out far ahead of all other manufacturers in both countries, is unmistable proof that their goods CAPITAL : : : $10,000,000 HAVING ESTABLISHED AN AGENCY at A.
